Name: _____

Date: _____

No one ever got rich by inventing something that nobody needed. Duh. But how do you figure out what people need? Just ask them! This survey will help you do that.

The first person to ask is yourself. Answer these questions, and you'll be surprised to find out what you never knew you needed.

Then, print out some copies of the form and ask everyone you know to fill one out. Come back and input the answers into this form, and you'll get your survey results in certified DR FAD pages for your INVENTOR'S NOTEBOOK.

1. What products have you used today?

2. Did any of them make you really annoyed?

3. If yes, which ones and why?

4. What would make those machines work better?

5. What's the most annoying thing you have to do every day?

6. What would make that job less annoying?

7. If you were given a magical device that could do anything, what would you want it to do?

8. What's the most useful thing you own?
